

Ryan McCann

Director

Ryan McCann is a Director and co-founder of Quadrant Economics LLC. He has a master’s degree in economics from Tufts University, and a bachelor’s degree in Mathematics from St. Anselm College.

Mr. McCann has ten years of experience assisting clients in the areas of valuation, contractual and investment disputes, economic analysis, and finance with an emphasis on valuation of businesses and economic damages in litigation proceedings. He has consulted on a variety of cases involving discounted cash flow (DCF) analysis, market-based valuation models, and the impact of fiscal, macroeconomic, and currency related issues on economic damages.

Mr. McCann’s experience includes the valuation of damages in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and Europe and in various industries, including Transportation, Energy, Banking, Oil and Gas, Construction, Telecommunications, Agriculture, Shipping, and Private Equity. He has provided expert services to clients involved in investment and commercial disputes in the United States, and in proceedings under the rules of the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID), the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL), the Society of Maritime Arbitrators (SMA), and the London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA).

Mr. McCann has been recognized by independent research conducted by Who’s Who Legal as a Future Leader, quoting sources who describe him as a “very academic and clear-minded expert” who “has got it all.” Peers and clients responding to the publication note that Mr. McCann “has the ability to explain complex economic matters in a way that is accessible to the lay-person,” and that “his economic arguments flow easily and naturally.”

Before beginning his career in economic and valuation consulting, Mr. McCann provided research support in economics involving econometric modeling, hedonic pricing models, residential real estate market dynamics, as well as compliance reviews in mortgage financing.

Mr. McCann is a native English speaker and has professional fluency in Spanish.
